

Fiscal Sponsorship at Foundation for Louisiana

Foundation for Louisiana (FFL) is a social justice philanthropic intermediary founded in 2005 as the Louisiana Disaster Recovery Foundation to invest in the immediate recovery of communities after Hurricane Katrina. While FFL was established in the wake of Hurricane Katrina, our founders recognized the need to address longstanding inequities that shape the life outcomes of Louisianans. FFL's programs grew in response to those needs, and, today, focus on racial, climate, and gender justice, economic opportunity, and support for Louisiana's vibrant arts and culture.

Through fiscal sponsorship, FFL supports local leaders as they develop innovative responses to unmet needs in our communities. Our program provides critical operational infrastructure across social justice issues with a specific focus on Black and Indigenous-led, grassroots organizations and movements.
